Firemen Take Care Of Two Blazes On Single Call

The fire department took care of two blazes on one alarm this afternoon. Both were grass fires.

At 12:45 p. m., the firemen were called to the residence of Wilbur Patrick, 1015 North Diamond street, where a grass fire got out of control. The firefighters put out the blaze quickly.

As they were leaving the scene of this blaze the firemen noticed that the grass on a lot at the home of Mrs. Nellie Deppe, 975 North Prairie street, was burning. They drove a few feet, grabbed their hand extinguishers and put out this fire.

At 2:20 p. m., firemen made a long run to the home of John Frewitt, 128 West Vandalla Road, where a grass fire was burning briskly. The firemen took care of this blaze quickly. There was no damage.

At 2:40 p. m., another alarm came from the residence of Leonard C. Buchanan, 499 East Walnut street, where a grass fire was raging. It was extinguished by the firefighters. No damage to nearby buildings resulted.

Mrs. John Little Dies In California; Burial To Be Here

Word has been received in this city of the death of Mrs. John Frederick Little at Corte Madera, California, following an illness of several weeks. She was formerly Miss Clara Elizabeth Russell.

Mrs. Little was born in Jacksonville in 1900, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Russell.

She attended the Jacksonville public schools, Illinois College Conservatory of Music, and Whipple Academy. In 1922, she was married to John Frederick Little of Springfield, a construction engineer. Mr. Little died in 1936 in New Orleans, La., where he and his wife had been living.

For the past ten years, Mrs. Little has made her home in California. At the time of her death she was employed as a chief filing clerk in the U. S. Navy Building in San Francisco, California. She last visited in Jacksonville, in October of 1947.

Mrs. Little was preceded in death by her father and mother, her husband and one brother, Lt. A. H. Russell who was killed during World War II. She is survived by several brothers and sisters, nieces and nephews and by two aunts, the Misses Margaret and Catherine Russell of this city. One sister, Miss Miriam Russell, lives in Jacksonville. Interment will be at Diamond Grove cemetery, with private graveside services.

CAR IS "STANDARD EQUIPMENT" FOR HOME

Washington—(AP)—In his 1928 presidential campaign, Herbert Hoover envisioned two cars in every garage. But it remained for Perry Brothers, prominent Washington builders, twenty years later, to offer a car and garage with every house. Arnold Perry, head of the capital firm, says this offering is "no campaign promise." He actually furnishes a brand new Crosley station wagon, valued at $1,077, with each of his new houses in suburban Bethesda, Md. And, he reports, he is doing a land-office business—"with Republicans and Democrats alike."

Figures under each city indicate estimated number of Americans there. Estimated total is 7408 persons, not including embassy, consulate, Economic Co-Operation, and military personnel. More than half of the Americans in China are missionaries, and most of these show no intention of leaving.

Fast Starts—Dependable Power are Yours with this New Fireball Engine

No point in struggling through another winter with a limping or balky motor. Not when the Buick factory is turning out brand-new Fireball engines—like the one pictured above.

You can have that engine in your prewar Buick—one or two days from now.

You can have exactly the same thrill you'd get from bossing around the power plant of a new 1948 Buick—because you'll have exactly the same engine that goes into new cars, right from the same assembly line.

This is your good luck, because engine production is running ahead of car production—so why not take advantage of it right now?

Bring in your old Buick—any model since 1937. We lift out the weary engine—put in a new one—ready to go. Read the full list of what you'll get, and you'll see how complete this power package is.

Better come in and talk it over. Get our prices. The installed cost varies a little from one model to another—but it's always low enough to make this the prize power bargain of the year.

Chicago Grain Prices Higher
Chicago, Nov. 15.—(AP)—The grain market, blithely ignoring the news, pushed ahead fair-sized gains today. Commission houses did much of the buying which sent wheat, corn and oats up a cent at times while soybeans jumped nearly 4 cents.
Along the East Coast a longshoremen's strike continued, but it caused no selling pressure on grains. Prices dipped a bit at the start and then came bouncing back. Within the first hour they had gone above the previous close and thereafter they never lost this gain.
Cash corn prices were slightly lower, but that had no influence on futures contracts. The local commodity Credit Corporation office said it was still interested in offers of grain for shipment to the East Coast for export.
Processing interests gave the soybean market support, and trading in this commodity was active.
Receipts were: Wheat 32 cars, corn 882, oats 23, soybeans 31.
Wheat closed 1 to 2 1/2 higher, December $2.34 1/2, corn was 1 to 1 1/2 higher, December $1.41 1/2-1.42, oats were 1-1 1/2 higher, December 82, rye was 2 to 3 cents higher, December $1.79, soybeans were 3 1/2-4 1/2 higher, November $2.63 1/2, and lard was 17 to 32 cents a hundred pounds higher, November $19.00-$18.97.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT
Chicago, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Most livestock sales headed downward today. Hogs were off 50 to 75 cents a hundred pounds, cattle were steady to 15¢ less, and sheep were steady to 25 cents under Friday's levels.
Most good and choice barrows and gilts sold from $21.25 to $22.00, the top. Weights above 300 pounds were missing. Sows fetched $18.00 to $19.75.
Steers showed the heaviest slump price-wise, although a load of choice to prime kinds continued at the recent high point of $40.75. Most good and choice steers sold at $29.50 to $37.00. Choice heavy heifers brought $34.00 to $35.25 with most good and choice kinds getting $26.00 to $25.50. The practical top on beef cows was $22.00, while sausage bulls bested at $23.50 and vealers at $32.00.
The practical top on native woolled slaughter lambs was $25.00, although small lots brought Friday's top level of $25.50. Fed yearlings merited up to $22.50 and ewes to $8.50.
Total receipts included 17,500 hogs, 16,000 cattle, 800 calves, and 4,500 sheep.

Reynolds County Folks All Know Of Woodson

By The Journal-Courier Farm Editor
Salem, Mo. — To the people of Reynolds County, Mo., Jacksonville isn't the No. 1 town in Morgan county. Practically nobody there ever heard of "The Athens of the West." But they know all about Woodson and quite a few have been there.
It's in Reynolds county that the cedar trees spring from the red soil as thick as the hairs on a coon's tail. They grow straight, often 25 feet to the first branch. A good tree will furnish four, five or six fence posts.
Thousands of posts are cut every year. Many of them are trucked to Illinois and some of them go to Woodson, "that little place that has the big sale every Friday."

Corn—Firm; commission house buying.
Oats—Firm; followed lead of corn.
Soybeans—Firm; processing interests buying.
Hogs—Generally slow and 50 to 75 cents lower; top $22.00.
Cattle—Slow generally; steady to $1.00 lower; top $40.75.

The Old Professor Discusses Week-end Gridiron Clashes

By Whitney Martin
New York, Nov. 15.—(P)—The old professor from the piano stool and his Monday morning class of football coaches applauded vigorously. They had been afraid he would try to play.

Old professor—thank you gentlemen, thank you. I was just testing you to see if you appreciated good music. The fact you do not want me to play proves you do. I can play Hearts and Flowers, though.

Carl Voghts, Northwestern—Speaking of hearts, professor, my kids played their hearts out against Notre Dame and I'm extremely proud of them. However I thought we would hold Notre Dame's running plays into the line in check a little better.

Frank Leahy, Notre Dame—I'm very proud of our team. It came off the floor to win and showed tremendous fight and spirit. Northwestern was a marvelous team, one of the best I have ever seen in action. That makes 'em good.

Old professor—If you beat one of the best that makes you pretty good, doesn't it? My, it seems hot in here.

Ray Wolf, Florida—We should have Kentucky's George Blanda here. He'd cool things off. Kentucky's line was just too many and too good for us and Blanda's cool-headed play calling and equally cool and accurate passing in the clutch was impossible to handle. Mr. Bryant did a fine job of having his boys ready.

Paul Bryant, Kentucky—We hit our stride offensively. Our boys have been playing their hearts out the last three or four games. Even so, Florida almost caught us flatfooted. We got ready for a great Florida ground attack, and we stopped it, but that boy Doug Belden was terrific with his passing.

Old professor—When you do not have a good hand, Mr. Bell, what do you do?

SMU Connects With Passes
Matty Bell, Southern Methodist—We pass, professor, and that last play pass from Gil Johnson to Paul Page really saved the day for us. Both teams were playing a hard, aggressive game and Arkansas deserves a lot of credit for the way it continued to perform at top speed after Clyde Scott and Leon Campbell were injured.

John Barnhill, Arkansas—I'm proud of the spirit and play of my Razorbacks. It was the toughest game I believe I've ever lost. Penalties again hurt us a little, but hard line play always brings that sort of thing.

Old professor—What gives, Mr. Ward?

Dallas Ward, Colorado—Something has to give when Missouri gets rolling. We didn't have the reserves to battle them on even terms for the entire 60 minutes. I like to think of that first half. But I'm very proud of the way our players performed.

Don Faurot, Missouri—Colorado gave us a rough time the first half. I thought the disappointment of the Oklahoma game and injuries we suffered might be too much for us. We found Ward's team played resourceful ball and took advantage of our mistakes might quickly.

Old professor—And I find our time has passed mighty quickly, too. I'm sorry, but I must close our session. Button up your overcoats when you pass out. Or maybe it would be better not to pass out. Just leave quietly. Good day, gentlemen.

Eastern To Meet Wesleyan In Corn Bowl Grid Game

Chicago, Nov. 15.—(P)—Eastern Illinois State College of Charleston and Illinois Wesleyan, champions of their respective conferences, will meet in the second annual corn bowl football game at Bloomington, Nov. 25.

Wesleyan, Bloomington's own champion, clinched the Little Nine crown Saturday by walloping Millikin 27-6. The victory gave Wesleyan a perfect conference record of five wins in which it piled up 127 points and limited foes to 31.

Eastern captured the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference title by chilling the defending champion, southern, 38-0. Eastern ended its conference campaign also with a perfect mark of four wins.

Wesleyan has a 6-2 record for the entire season, losing to Indiana State 6-0 and De-Pauw, 7-0. It closes its regular campaign Saturday against State Normal, which copied the runner-up spot in the IAC with 3-1 by trouncing eastern 40-0.

Eastern's complete record equals Wesleyan's 6-2. The Charleston school lost to Western Kentucky 29-6 and to Indiana State—the Corn Bowlers' common foe—21-20. Only other common foe of the two schools was Millikin which was dropped by Eastern 27-7.

Wesleyan's Saturday win over Millikin dumped the Decatur team into fourth place in the Little Nine windup. Wheaton, which downed Augustana 13-0, took second and Lake Forest finished third.

The Pioneer Conference title was determined a week ago. Quincy won with an unblemished record of three wins.

Thus, all three conference champions—Wesleyan, Eastern and Quincy—came through their league schedules unbeaten and untied.

Di Mag Rids Self Of Achilles Heel

Baltimore, Nov. 15.—(P)—Joe Di Maggio, New York Yankee outfield star, had a bone spur removed from his right heel in a half-hour operation today at Johns Hopkins hospital.

The American league slugger was under a general anesthetic. Dr. George E. Bennett did the surgery. It was Di Maggio third operation at Johns Hopkins in two years. Prior to the 1947 season he had to have plastic surgery to heal an operation for a bone spur removed from his other heel. He was back at the end of the season for bone chips in his throwing arm.

Although he limped through the waning games of the past season he wound up leading the league in home runs and runs batted in.

Di Maggio is expected to stay in the hospital for about two weeks.

Nine High School Teams Undefeated

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 15.—(P)—Nine downstate school football teams were listed in the undefeated, untied class today and all of them but one have closed their season.

West Aurora's Blackhawks have one more hurdle—and it's a big one—for a perfect record. The Blackhawks clash with once-beaten East Aurora on Thanksgiving Day for the Big Eight League title.

Only three schools finished up in the undefeated but tied ranks. One of them was Naperville, while Little Seven conference champions led all downstate teams in scoring for the season with 302 points. Runner-up was Polo with 300 in one fewer game.

Moosheart had a narrow squeeze in its windup Saturday with St. Thomas of Rockford, winning a bare 20-19 decision.

Cleveland Beats San Francisco In Pro Game 14 To 7

By Ralph Roden
New York, Nov. 15.—(P)—The mighty Cleveland Browns, undaunted to sharing leadership with anybody, finally booted the San Francisco 49ers out of co-partnership atop the all American conference pro football standings yesterday.

Divisional and playoff champions the past two years, the Browns gained undisputed possession of the lead by downing San Francisco's previously unbeaten 49ers, 14-7, at Cleveland yesterday before 82,768 fans, largest crowd ever to see a regular pro game.

The triumph left Coach Paul Brown's titans the only unbeaten team in pro football. The Browns have a 10-0 mark and lead the 49ers 10-1 by a half game.

Cleveland, however, is not "in" yet. The Browns clash again with the 49ers, who had led the parade since Sept. 19, in San Francisco on Thanksgiving Day as one of four remaining road games scheduled for a 14-day span.

Should the two Golths wind up the season tied for the lead a playoff game will be staged in Cleveland Dec. 12.

While the Browns assumed command in the west, three teams pulled into a tie for the conference's eastern division lead. The Baltimore Colts whipped the Chicago Rockets, 38-24, and the New York Yankees downed Brooklyn Dodgers, 21-7, to deadlock the Buffalo Bills for the top rung. The Bills bowed, 27-20, to the Los Angeles Dons. The three teams sport identical 5-6 won-lost records.

The pennant picture in the rival National League remained unchanged. The Philadelphia Eagles crushed the Boston Yanks, 45-0, to maintain their half-game bulge over the runner-up, Washington Redskins. The Skins, who take on the Eagles in Philadelphia next Sunday, humbled the Detroit Lions, 46-21. In the west, the Chicago Bears and the Chicago Cardinals remained tied for the lead. The Cards turned back the Pittsburgh Steelers, 24-7, and the Bears nosed out the Green Bay Packers, 7-6.

The Los Angeles Rams trounced the New York Giants, 52-37, and the Bears nosed out the Green Bay Packers, 7-6.

The Los Angeles Rams trounced the New York Giants, 52-37 in the National's remaining game.

A total of 159,729 fans took in the five National league games and 143,948 the four All-American struggles.

Wallace Will Run For Presidency Again In 1952

Chicago, Nov. 15.—(P)—The national committee of the Progressive party has spelled out a list of jobs on which it intends to ask the new Democratic-controlled congress to get busy.

At the top of the list which includes proposed legislation on labor, agriculture, inflation, housing, taxation, civil rights and public health and welfare is a renewed plea for reopening negotiations with the Soviet Union.

Henry A. Wallace, the party's nominee for the presidency, made the Russian negotiations one of the principal issues in his campaign. Some of the other proposals also are restatements generally of the party's campaign platform.

At the conclusion of the two-day meeting of the 160 committeemen, Wallace told newsmen he would be a Progressive presidential candidate again in 1952 "if it would be the best thing for the party." He added "I want to fight more in the future than I have in the past," but that he did not know "what form my activity will take."

Officers Search For Slayer Of Sculptor, Wife

Boca Raton, Fla., Nov. 15.—(P)—A statewide dragnet was spread today for the slayer of nationally-known sculptor Leno Lazzari and his pretty wife, Louise.

Lazzari, about 48, and his wife, the former Louise Delea of Brooklyn, N. Y., 42, were shot to death in their modernistic studio-home early Sunday morning.

Police chief W. H. Brown said robbery apparently was the motive. Mrs. Lazzari's purse was missing and Lazzari's pockets had been turned out and no money was found in them.

The bodies were discovered shortly after noon (CST). Yesterday by Mrs. Marjorie Castiglione, a friend who was to have been a dinner guest.

Brown termed it a "cold blooded double murder for money."

The killer-or killers—apparently waited for the Lazzaris to return from West Palm Beach late Saturday night where they had been visiting friends and shopping for groceries, Brown said.

After killing the sculptor and his wife, the killer apparently fled in Lazzari's Jeep.

BRANNAN HONORED
Kansas City, Nov. 15.—(P)—Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan will be awarded an honorary American Farmer degree tonight at the 20th annual convention of the Future Farmers of America.

The convention opened yesterday with a speaking contest. Approximately 15,000 youths are expected to attend the convention which ends Thursday.

Red Rolfe Named New Detroit Manager

Detroit, Nov. 15.—(P)—Robert A. (Red) Rolfe, former New York Yankee third base star, came back to the major leagues today as the new manager of the Detroit Tigers.

He never before has managed a professional baseball team. In a surprise move, he was promoted from the Detroit farm system in an effort to boost the faltering Tigers back into baseball's limelight. He has headed the farm system for the last year.

Rolfe has been out of the big time for six years, except for a tour of duty in 1946 as a Yankee coach. He succeeds Steve O'Neill, who was fired Nov. 6 after his 1948 Tigers floundered all season in the second division and ended up in fifth place.

Rolfe, whose salary was not disclosed, faces a sizable task in bringing the Tigers back into contention in the American league. "This club has its weaknesses," he admitted to newsmen, "but it is not a bad ball club. If we can strengthen two or three spots, we will be up there in the pennant fight."

He specifically mentioned catching, second base and pitching. "Our outfield is adequate," Rolfe said.

He added that he expects Johnny Groth, the Buffalo Bison star, to gain a regular spot in the Detroit outfield next season.

"Naturally, I'm very happy," Rolfe grinned. "This is a big opportunity. It is somewhat of a surprise, because I've never had any experience as a manager. But I'm thrilled that General Manager Billy Evans, Owner Walter O. Briggs, and his son, Spike Briggs, have this faith in me."

Oregon Accuses California Of Dodging Conflict

Eugene, Ore., Nov. 15.—(P)—Oregon accused California today of dodging a post-season playoff for the right to enter the Rose Bowl.

Leo A. Harris, Oregon athletic director, said California rejected a private challenge last week, but added he had not given up hope.

Harris said he was re-issuing the challenge publicly because "everybody interested in intercollegiate football and the Rose Bowl would prefer to have the selection of the conference representative in the 1949 Rose Bowl game depend on the result of a game between the two schools."

Harris added if either team loses its remaining game on schedule, the playoff proposal would be dropped. California replied at once the proposal was turned down because it would interfere with classroom work.

"I'm opposed to such a game for purely academic reasons. We have a 10-game schedule. Our academic pace is very fast and our boys need time to devote to their studies," Statius Hamilton, California athletic director said.

Irish Contend Wildcat TD Served To Inspire Them

Chicago, Nov. 15.—(P)—It seems Fullback Art Murakowski signed Northwestern's death warrant when he ran that stolen Notre Dame pass 91 yards for a touchdown at South Bend, Ind., last Saturday.

Assistant Coach Bernie Crimmins of Notre Dame told the Herald-American quarterback meeting today that the Irish became inspired instead of deflated when Murakowski put Northwestern ahead, 7-6, with Frank Tripucka's fished toss in the third period.

"Other players threw their arms comfortably around Tripucka after that play and promised him they would get that touchdown back any time he wanted to march," said Crimmins.

On the sidelines, Coach Frank Leahy laughed off the play. "Frank," he told Tripucka, "you've thrown a lot of Notre Dame touchdowns passes, forget about that Northwestern score you just threw. Let's get rolling again."

Could he be right then? continued Crimmins, "that Tripucka regained his confidence completely and that 63-yard last quarter drive for our 12-7 win was no surprise."

New York Stock Market

New York, Nov. 15.—(P)—Paced by the rails, the stock market moved higher today.

After a slow start, it gathered momentum steadily, and leading pushed up by fractions to more than a point in later trading.

The volume expanded markedly with the rise in prices. Issues that ran into heavy going lost only small fractions before turning around to join into the general upward movement.

Baltimore & Ohio common and preferred were two good performers. Both marked time until directors declared a $1 dividend on preferred, the first since 1931. Common gained as much as 1 point and preferred jumped as much as 3 points on the news.

Steele, Metals and Motors followed the rails along the upward path. Higher were Santa Fe, Union Pacific, Illinois Central, U. S. Steel, Republic, Chrysler, General Motors, Goodrich, Firestone, Deere, Caterpillar, Douglas, Schenley (on a good earnings report), Consolidated Natural Gas, Kennecott, Phelps Dodge, DuPont, Eastman Kodak, U. S. Gypsum, American Airlines, and Twentieth Century Fox.

Going lower were Western Union, American Can, Dow Chemical, Allied Chemical, International Paper, and Transcontinental & Western.

CORNPICKER VICTIM
Greenville, Ill., Nov. 15.—(P)—Injuries suffered in a farm accident were fatal yesterday to Thomas Lee Hughes, 41, of near Greenville, Meadard county. Hughes was injured last Monday when his clothing caught in a cornpicker's power take-off. He died in St. John's hospital, Springfield.

PLAYERS KILLED
Saarbrücken, Germany, Nov. 15.—(P)—Seventeen soccer players and fans from the Saar-French border town of Rührbach were killed yesterday, 16 were injured and another four are missing as the result of a highway accident.

Police said members of the football team and their supporters were riding in the truck when it rolled off the highway near Breitfurt. The truck turned upside down, landing in the Blies River.

Sports Scribes Again Pick Mighty Michigan As Best Grid Machine

New York, Nov. 15.—(P)—Michigan's mighty Wolverines continued to lead the nation's football teams in the weekly Associated Press poll of sports writers today, bettering their first place margin of last week considerably.

Whereas they trailed Notre Dame by three first place ballots in the previous poll, the Big Nine champions gobbled up 130 of the 208 top spots. The other 78 No. 1 picks were divided among nine teams with Notre Dame on 27 first place ballots.

In point scoring, the determining factor, Michigan received 1,952 to 1,721 for the Fighting Irish. No doubt, last Saturday's results influenced a lot of voters. The Wolverines trampled Indiana 54-0 score while Notre Dame barely squeezed out a 12-7 triumph over Northwestern.

Cadeis In Third Place
Notre Dame previously had beaten Indiana 42-6 and Michigan had swept past Northwestern 28-0.

Although they received only three first place votes to 16 for California, Army's Cadets took third place over the Golden Bears, 1,426 points to 1,268. That was the way the two teams stood a week ago.

North Carolina, by virtue of its 49-20 romp over Maryland, moved up a peg into fifth place with 1,034 points as 11 voters tumbled the Tar Heels as their No. 1 team. Despite its 47-0 massacre of Temple, Penn State dropped down a notch to sixth place with 883 points and three first place ballots.

Wildcats Up A Notch
Northwestern, on its great moving up a notch into seventh place by a comfortable margin over Oklahoma's Sooners who also advanced a peg from ninth to eighth place. The Sooners pulled five first place votes.

Clemson, one of the five major unbeaten eleven, climbed into ninth place on the strength of its 21-14 victory over Wake Forest. The Tigers from South Carolina attracted nine top berths, and missed beating out Oklahoma for eighth by a mere five points. Southern Methodist, a last second, 14-12 winner over Arkansas' last Saturday, dropped three places but managed to finish in the top ten.

Only two other teams received first place mention. They were Georgia Tech and Michigan State who finished 11th and 12th respectively. Each gained two No. 1 votes.

The biggest gains were made by Tulane, which moved up from 22nd to 14th, and Mississippi, which advanced from 23rd to 17th. The biggest drops were experienced by Georgia Tech, which skidded from 11th to 20th, and Tennessee which slipped from 18th to 29th.

Here's How They Stand

THE STORY

Time, 1880. Place, New Orleans. Well-to-do Louis Durand carries on a correspondence courtship with a Miss Julia Russell, whom he has never seen. When she finally comes from St. Louis to marry him, he is amazed to find her young and ravishingly beautiful—entirely different from what he had been led to expect. Certain behavior of hers puzzles him from the first but not until a letter arrives from her supposed sister—Miss Russell's sister—does he realize the woman he married is an impostor. Before he can face her with it, she disappears. Durand, frantic, recalls she has access to his entire bank account. He rushes to the home of his banker, finds his dinner.

XV

THE banker wrenched off his napkin, cast it from him in sign his meal was ended for that evening at least. "My chief teller," he said in quick-formed decision. "My chief teller would know. That would be quicker than going to the bank; we'd have to open up and go over the day's transactions."

"Where can I find him?" Durand was already on his way toward the door and out again.

"No, no, I'll go with you. Wait for me just a second—" Simms hurriedly snatched at his hat and a silken throat muffler. "What is it, what has happened, Mr. Durand?"

"I'm afraid to say, until I find out," Durand said desolately. "I'm afraid even to think—"

Simms had to stop first and recure his teller's home address; then they hurriedly left, climbed back into the same carriage that had brought Durand, and were driven to a frugal little squeezed-in house on Dumaine Street.

Simms got out, deterred Durand with a kindly intended gesture of his hand, evidently hoping to spare him as much as possible. "Suppose you wait here. I'll go in and talk to him."

He went inside to be gone perhaps ten minutes at the most. To Durand it seemed he had been left out there the whole night.

At last the door opened and Simms had reappeared. Durand leaped, as though a spring had been released, to meet him, trying to read his face for the tidings as he went toward him. It looked none too sanguine.

"What is it? For heaven's sake, tell me!"

"Steady, Mr. Durand, steady." Simms put a supporting arm about him just below the turn of the shoulders. "You had thirty thousand, fifty-one dollars, forty cents in your check-cashing account and twenty thousand and ten in your savings account this morning when we opened for business."

"I know that! I know that already! That isn't what I want to know."

The teller had followed Simms out. The manager gestured to him surreptitiously, handing over to him the unwelcome responsibility of answering the question.

"Your wife appeared at five minutes of three to make a last-minute withdrawal," the teller said.

"Your balance at closing-time was fifty-one dollars, forty cents in the one account, ten dollars in the other. To have closed them both out entirely, your own signature would have been necessary."

THE office of the Commissioner of Police, in the Police Headquarters Building, was not particularly prepossessing, but since it was not for social usage but strictly for work, this doubtless was of no great moment.

The visitor sat down in a large black leather chair, lumpy with broken spring coils.

"Now, sir," prodded the commissioner.

"My name is Louis Durand," the visitor said. "I was married on May the twentieth, last, to a woman who came from St. Louis and called herself Julia Russell. I had never seen her before. I have the certificate of marriage here with me. Yesterday, the fifteenth of June, she withdrew fifty thousand dollars from her bank account and disappeared. I have not seen her since. I want a warrant issued for the arrest of this woman. I want her apprehended, brought to trial, and the money returned to me."

The commissioner said nothing for some time. It was obvious that this was not intention or distrust, but on the contrary a sudden excessive amount of both. It was equally obvious that he was rephrasing the story, to himself, in his own mind; familiarizing himself with it.

"May I see the certificate?" he said at last.

Durand tendered it to him. He read it carefully, but said nothing further in respect to it. In fact, he asked two questions more.

One was: "You said you had never seen her before; how was that?"

Durand explained the nature of the courtship, and added, moreover, that he believed her not to be the woman he had proposed to, but an impostor. He gave the reasons for that belief, but admitted he had no proof.

The commissioner's second and final question, spoken through steeple-joined fingers, was:

"Did she forge your name in order to withdraw the funds?"

Durand shook his head. "She signed her own. I had given her authorization with the bank to do so."

The commissioner addressed Durand with a leisurely deliberation. "I would like to talk this matter over with my associates first," he admitted, "before I take any sort of action. If you'll allow me to keep this marriage certificate for the time being, I'll see that it's returned to you. Suppose you come back tomorrow at this same time, Mr. Durand."

"Thank you, Mr. Commissioner," Durand said, rising.

"Don't thank me for anything yet. Let us wait and see first."

After hearing over an hour of argument pro and con on the situation, the council, on motion by Alderman Kelly, with second by Alderman Flynn, voted to sustain the action of the zoning committee in refusing a change to "light industrial" classification. The "aye" vote of Mayor Ernest Hoagland was necessary to break a 3-3 tie. Aldermen Henderson, Kelly and Flynn also approved acceptance of the recommendation, while Alderman Baker, Costello and Weaver were in opposition.

Two aldermen, Chumley and Reid, were absent from the session due to illness. However, Alderman Chumley's name appeared on the recommendation that the rezoning be disallowed. He is a member of the committee which held a public hearing on the proposal recently.

Many interested persons were in the council chamber when the recommendation was handed to Mayor Hoagland by Alderman Kelly, chairman of the committee which had studied the proposal.

Explaining his tie-breaking vote, Mayor Hoagland said that he was willing to back the committee, although he is definitely interested in the growth of the city. "It had previously been stated by A. Wadsworth Applebee, representing the petitioners, that moving of the Seven Up plant would allow expansion of the Sears Coldspot refrigerator repair plant, which now shares a building on the corner of West Douglas avenue and North West street with the bottling concern.

Mayor Hoagland continued, "I feel that it is a bit unfair to the council to have to decide these matters. Every change dynamites the (city) plan. We've got to come to a line and take one side or the other."

Shouldn't "Close Door" "We don't want to close the door to industrial expansion. The record of the council indicates this."

Alderman Baker, explaining his stand, said, "look at it this way—It's business, and that's what we want in Jacksonville."

Baker and Weaver both expressed the view that North Main street will eventually be built up commercially on both sides. Baker also said that the additional payroll created in the city would be valuable. Both the Seven Up company and the Coldspot plant would engage additional personnel in the event of a transfer in location.

Kelly told the council that a great number of other types of establishments could locate on the property if a change is made.

Applebee summarized building and operation plans of the bottling company for the council, displaying a drawing of the proposed structure, and expressing the view that it would not be objectionable. He said that when the zoning law was written, there was no thought of a soft-drink bottling plant and that no provision was made for its classification under other than "light industrial."

Neighbors, however, expressed a different opinion on the objectionableness. Among those speaking to the councilmen were Mrs. Louise Gathier, Fred Renkel, Mrs. George Corcoran and Doris A. Thompson. They presented a variety of reasons why the change should not be made, all centering around the possibility that a nuisance would be created in the area. Mrs. Corcoran said "an overwhelming majority of the neighbors oppose the rezoning."

Others Considered Two other zoning petitions were considered. The committee recommended tabling of a petition for change in zone of a lot located on Johnson street.

Second reading of an ordinance changing the classification of a lot on the northeast corner of South Church and West Chambers streets from "residential" to "local business" was tabled awaiting further information on building plans of the Cisne and Schneider dairy, petitioners in the matter. First reading of the ordinance was made in July, but further action was postponed awaiting the outcome of a proposal to reamend the zoning setup here.

Aldermen approved leasing of a triangular piece of land between West Lafayette, North Main and South Sandy streets to the Elm City Produce company at an annual rental of $5. The lease is for 20 years. The contract provides for use of the land as a driveway.

Compliments Fire Department Flynn, reporting for the fire committee, complimented the Jacksonville department for its work at Alexander during the recent elevator fire. He said that their action saved several surrounding buildings.

Kelly, of the street committee, said that the sweeper is back in service after undergoing repairs. He told councilmen that 100 loads of leaves have been removed from city streets and that more are yet to disappear.

John W. Baptist, superintendent of sewers, reported a bad situation in the West College avenue sewer, where members of the department have been working recently. He said that something is hindering the flow between Park street and Prospect street. He said that the location of the obstacle has been established as approximately 100 feet east of Park street. Further efforts will be made to remove the obstruction today.
